Around 2200 hours inmate Cope asked me officer Huddleston to call a detective from Rock Hill. I told him I would let Lt Walden know. He said he thought it was Walden he needed to talk to because he had some other things he wanted to confess about what he had done to his other children. At that point I told him I didn't want to hear anymore. Lt Walden had stepped out of his office, so I went upstairs for a few moments. When I came back down Lt Walden was in the office and I informed him on what Mr. Cope wanted. At no point did he ask for an attorney
